

Opis choroby *

Definicja

Infantile mercury poisoning is a rare intoxication affecting children, most commonly characterized by erythema of the hands, feet and nose, edematous, painful, pink to red, desquamating fingers and toes, bluish, cold and wet extremities, excessive sweating, irritability, photophobia, muscle weakness, diffuse hypotonia, paresthesia, hypertension and tachycardia, due to elemental, organic or inorganic mercury exposure. Additional manifestations include alopecia, loss of appetite, excessive salivation with red and swollen gums, tooth and nail loss and insomnia.

Dane

Klasyfikacja

Choroba

Synonimy

Erythroedema polyneuritis
Choroba Feera
Choroba Pinka
Choroba Swifta
Choroba Swifta i Feera
Dziecięca akrodynia
Infantile mercury intoxication
Obrzęk z zaczerwienieniem z powodu zapalenia wielonerwowego
Feer disease
Infantile acrodynia
Infantile mercury intoxication
Pink disease
Swift disease
Swift-Feer disease

Kod ORPHA

247165

Kod OMIM

-

Kod ICD10

T56.1

Kod ICD11

-

---

\*Źródło

orphonet