

Opis choroby *

Definicja

Extraventricular neurocytoma (EVN), a variant of central neurocytoma (see this term), is a rare neuronal neoplasm, composed of round cells with neuronal differentiation, which is located outside of the ventricular system, usually within the spinal cord or cerebral hemispheres and that manifests with headache, nausea, vomiting, complex partial seizures or focal neurological deficits. In some cases it may exhibit atypical features consistent with aggressive clinical behavior.

Dane

Klasyfikacja

Choroba

Synonimy

EVN

Kod ORPHA

251927

Kod OMIM

-

Kod ICD10

C72.9

Kod ICD11

-

---

*Źródło

orphanet