

Opis choroby *

Definicja

Choroid plexus carcinoma is a rare and highly aggressive malignant type of choroid plexus tumor (see this term) occurring almost exclusively in children, presenting with cerebrospinal fluid obstruction in the lateral ventricles (most common), the fourth and third ventricles or in multiple ventricles, leading to hydrocephalus and increased intracranial pressure, and manifesting with nausea, vomiting, abnormal eye movements, gait impairment, seizures and enlarged head circumference.

Dane

Klasyfikacja

Choroba

Kod ORPHA

251899

Kod OMIM

260500

Kod ICD10

C71.7

Kod ICD11

2A00.22

---

*Źródło

orphanet