

Opis choroby *

Definicja

Fuchs heterochromic iridocyclitis (FHI) is an ocular disease of unknown etiology occurring in a very small percentage (0.5-6.2%) of uveitis cases, characterized by diffuse iris heterochromia or atrophy, keratic precipitates in the absence of synechiae, and in some cases evolving to glaucoma and vitreous opacities.

Dane

Klasyfikacja

Choroba

Synonimy

FHI

FHI

Kod ORPHA

263479

Kod OMIM

-

Kod ICD10

H20.8

Kod ICD11

9A96.1

*Źródło

orphanet