

Opis choroby *

Definicja

A rare disorder caused by infection of the central nervous system by Herpes simplex virus (HSV) that could have a devastating clinical course and a potentially fatal outcome particularly with delay or lack of treatment. This disorder often involves the frontal and temporal lobes, usually asymmetrically, resulting in personality changes, cognitive impairment, aphasia, seizures, and focal weakness.

Dane

Klasyfikacja

Choroba

Synonimy

HSE

Opryszczkowe zapalenie opon mózgowych i mózgu

Zapalenie mózgu HSV

HSV encephalitis

HSVE

Herpes simplex meningo-encephalitis

Herpes simplex neuroinvasion

Herpetic encephalitis

Kod ORPHA

1930

Kod OMIM

617900

Kod ICD10

G05.1*

Kod ICD11

1F00.21

*Źródło

orphanet