

Opis choroby *

Definicja

Childhood disintegrative disorder is a rare pervasive developmental disorder with a disease onset before the age of three and characterized by a dramatic loss of behavioral and developmental functioning after at least two years of normal development. Manifestations of the disease include loss of speech, incontinence, communication and social interaction problems, stereotypical autistic behaviors and dementia.

Dane

Klasyfikacja

Choroba

Synonimy

Dementia infantilis
Demencja dziecięca
Zespół Hellera
Heller syndrome

Kod ORPHA

168782

Kod OMIM

-

Kod ICD10

F84.3

Kod ICD11

6A02.3

*Źródło

orphanet