Opis choroby ***

Definicja

A rare hematologic disease characterized by the presence of 20-29% blasts in the bone marrow, presence of 5-29% blasts in the peripheral blood, and/or presence of Auer rods. Patients show relatively stable peripheral blood counts for weeks or months, with specific cytogenetic and molecular genetic characteristics constituting important prognostic factors.

Dane

Klasyfikacja Choroba	Synonimy RAEB-t RAEB-t
Kod ORPHA 168960	Kod OMIM -	Kod ICD10 D46.2
Kod ICD11
-
*Źródło orphanet		