

Opis choroby *

Definicja

A rare renal disease characterized by persistent excess urinary calcium excretion in the absence of an underlying systemic disease and hypercalcemia. The condition leads to an increased risk for the formation of kidney stones and nephrocalcinosis, as well as reduced bone mineral density with increased incidence of fractures in some patients.

Dane

Klasyfikacja

Choroba

Kod ORPHA

2197

Kod OMIM

607258

Kod ICD10

E83.5

Kod ICD11

MF98.0

*Źródło

orphanet