

Opis choroby *

Definicja

Lujo hemorrhagic fever, caused by the Lujo virus (a newly discovered Old World arenavirus) is a zoonotic disease from Zambia, Africa, whose reservoir is unknown and is characterized by fever and hemorrhagic manifestations with an extremely high fatality rate of 80% (in the 5 reported cases to date) and a moderate to high level of nosocomial transmission.

Dane

Klasyfikacja

Choroba

Synonimy

Zambian hemorrhagic fever

Zambijska gorączka krwotoczna

Kod ORPHA

319213

Kod OMIM

-

Kod ICD10

A96.8

Kod ICD11

-

*Źródło

orphanet