

Opis choroby *

Definicja

Camptodactyly of fingers is a rare, genetic, non-syndromic, congenital limb malformation disorder characterized by a painless, non-traumatic, non-neurogenic, often bilateral, permanent flexion contracture at the proximal interphalangeal joint of a postaxial finger, resulting in permanent volar inclination of the affected digit. The fifth finger is always involved, but additional digits might also be affected.

Dane

Klasyfikacja

Wada morfologiczna

Kod ORPHA

295016

Kod OMIM

114200

Kod ICD10

Q68.1

Kod ICD11

LB80.Y

*Źródło

orphanet