

Opis choroby *

Definicja

Familial isolated trichomegaly is a rare genetic hair anomaly characterized by a prolonged anagen phase of the eyelash hairs, leading to extreme eyelash growth that may result in corneal irritation. Increased growth of hair on other parts of the face (eyebrows, cheeks, forehead) and/or the body (chest, arms, legs) may be associated.

Dane

Klasyfikacja

Choroba

Kod ORPHA

411788

Kod OMIM

190330

Kod ICD10

Q84.2

Kod ICD11

LD27.0Y

*Źródło

orphanet