

Opis choroby *

Definicja

Hereditary isolated aplastic anemia is a rare, genetic, constitutional aplastic anemia disorder characterized by severe peripheral blood pancytopenia and bone marrow hypoplasia in multiple individuals of a family, in the absence of any somatic symptoms. Abnormal bleeding, as well as erythrocyte macrocytosis, is reported and patients usually become transfusion-dependent.

Dane

Klasyfikacja

Choroba

Kod ORPHA

397692

Kod OMIM

616553

Kod ICD10

D61.0

Kod ICD11

3A70.0

*Źródło

orphanet