

Opis choroby *

Definicja

A rare complex hereditary spastic paraplegia characterized by neonatal to infantile onset of progressive spasticity in the lower limbs, hyperreflexia, tip-toe walking, pes equinus, and delayed motor developmental milestones. Kyphoscoliosis becomes evident in older patients, and most patients show atrophy of the lateral aspects of the tongue. Additional signs may include intellectual disability, language impairment, and moderate upper limb involvement.

Dane

Klasyfikacja

Choroba

Synonimy

Kyphoscoliosis-lateral tongue atrophy-HSP syndrome
Kyphoscoliosis-lateral tongue atrophy-HSP syndrome

Kod ORPHA

496689

Kod OMIM

-

Kod ICD10

G11.4

Kod ICD11

-

---

*Źródło

orphanet