

Opis choroby *

Definicja

Infant acute respiratory distress syndrome is a lung disorder that affects premature infants caused by developmental insufficiency of surfactant production and structural immaturity of the lungs. The symptoms usually appear shortly after birth and may include tachypnea, tachycardia, chest wall retractions (recession), expiratory grunting, nasal flaring and cyanosis during breathing efforts.

Dane

Klasyfikacja

Choroba

Synonimy

Hyaline membrane disease
Choroba błony hialinowej
Dziecięcy zespół ostrej niewydolności oddechowej
Noworodkowy zespół ostrej niewydolności oddechowej
Infant ARDS
Infant respiratory distress syndrome
Neonatal respiratory distress syndrome

Kod ORPHA

70587

Kod OMIM

267450

Kod ICD10

P22.0

Kod ICD11

KB23.0

*Źródło

orphanet