

Opis choroby *

Definicja

Iridocorneal endothelial (ICE) syndrome describes a group of progressive corneal proliferative endotheliopathies comprised of Chandler's syndrome, Cogan-Reese syndrome and essential iris atrophy (see these terms), affecting mainly young adult females and characterized by iris holes and atrophy, papillary distortion, anterior synechiae, corneal edema and often with secondary glaucoma and corneal decompensation as complications

Dane

Klasyfikacja

Choroba

Synonimy

ICE syndrome

Zespół ICE

Kod ORPHA

64734

Kod OMIM

-

Kod ICD10

H21.1

Kod ICD11

LA11.Y

*Źródło

orphanet