

Opis choroby *

Definicja

A rare reflex epilepsy characterized by seizures and photoparoxysmal responses triggered by flashing or flickering lights, or patterns. Exact nature of the stimulus and seizure type are variable. The disorder mainly presents in childhood and adolescence and can either occur as an isolated condition, or be associated to other epilepsy syndromes.

Dane

Klasyfikacja

Choroba

Kod ORPHA

166409

Kod OMIM

609573

Kod ICD10

G40.5

Kod ICD11

8A61.40

---

*Źródło

orphanet