

Opis choroby *

Definicja

A rare biliary tract disease characterized by external compression and subsequent obstruction of an extrahepatic biliary duct by one or more gallstones in the cystic duct or the gallbladder. Patients may present with acute or chronic cholecystitis with right upper abdominal pain, nausea, and vomiting, jaundice, or cholangitis. Cholecystobiliary or -enteric fistulae can arise due to chronic inflammation and ulceration.

Dane

Klasyfikacja

Zespół kliniczny

Synonimy

Extrinsic biliary compression syndrome

Extrinsic biliary compression syndrome

Kod ORPHA

521219

Kod OMIM

-

Kod ICD10

K80.8

Kod ICD11

DC11.Y

*Źródło

orphanet