

Opis choroby *

Definicja

A rare biliary tract disease characterized by external compression and subsequent obstruction of an extrahepatic biliary duct by one or more gallstones in the cystic duct or the gallbladder. Patients may present with acute or chronic cholecystitis with right upper abdominal pain, nausea, and vomiting, jaundice, or cholangitis. Cholecystobiliary or -enteric fistulae can arise due to chronic inflammation and ulceration.

Dane

Klasyfikacja	Synonimy
Zespół kliniczny	Extrinsic biliary compression syndrome Extrinsic biliary compression syndrome

Kod ORPHA	Kod OMIM	Kod ICD10
521219	-	K80.8

Kod ICD11
DC11.Y

*Źródło

orphanet