

Opis choroby *

Definicja

Florid cemento-osseous dysplasia (FCOD) is a rare fibro-osseous lesion in the jaw that predominantly affects middle-aged women of African descent. It is generally asymptomatic or may manifest with pain and gingival swelling. Radiologically, it is characterized by multiple dense lobulated bone lesions, often symmetrically located in various regions of the jaw.

Dane

Klasyfikacja

Choroba

Synonimy

Florid osseous dysplasia

Ogniskowa dysplazja cementowo-kostna

Focal cemento-osseous dysplasia

Kod ORPHA

83451

Kod OMIM

-

Kod ICD10

D16.5

Kod ICD11

DA07.3

*Źródło

orphanet