

Opis choroby *

Definicja

Rippling muscle disease is a rare, genetic, neuromuscular disorder characterized by muscle hyperirritability triggered by stretch, percussion or movement. Patients present wave-like, electrically-silent muscle contractions (rippling), muscle mounding, painful muscle stiffness and muscle hypertrophy, usually with elevated serum creatine kinase.

Dane

Klasyfikacja

Choroba

Kod ORPHA

97238

Kod OMIM

606072

Kod ICD10

G71.8

Kod ICD11

8C71.Y

*Źródło

orphanet