

Opis choroby *

Definicja

A rare, congenital non-syndromic heart malformation characterized by an atypical location of the heart in a central position in the thorax, with the apex in the midline of the thorax. Atria are usually situs solitus, whereas ventricles may be situs inversus. Various congenital heart anomalies and visceral situs inversus have also been associated.

Dane

Klasyfikacja	Synonimy
Wada morfologiczna	Midline heart Serce położone pośrodkowo
Kod ORPHA	Kod OMIM	Kod ICD10
95443	-	Q24.8
Kod ICD11
LA80.2

*Źródło

orphanet