

Opis choroby *

Definicja

A rare, congenital, non-syndromic, developmental defect during embryogenesis characterized by the heart located in the normal (levo) position associated with abdominal viscera located in the dextro position. Cardiac (e.g. interrupted inferior vena cava with azygous continuation) and/or splenic (asplenia, polysplenia) anomalies, as well as intestinal malrotation, are frequently associated.

Dane

Klasyfikacja	Synonimy
Wada morfologiczna	Isolated levocardia Odwrócenie trzewi z prawidłowym położeniem serca Levocardia with situs inversus

Kod ORPHA 95854	Kod OMIM -	Kod ICD10 Q24.1
---------------------------	----------------------	---------------------------

Kod ICD11
LA80.0

---

*Źródło

orphanet