

Opis choroby *

Definicja

A rare, congenital, non-syndromic, developmental defect during embryogenesis characterized by the heart located in the normal (levo) position associated with abdominal viscera located in the dextro position. Cardiac (e.g. interrupted inferior vena cava with azygous continuation) and/or splenic (asplenia, polysplenia) anomalies, as well as intestinal malrotation, are frequently associated.

Dane

Klasyfikacja

Wada morfologiczna

Synonimy

Isolated levocardia

Odwroćenie trzewi z prawidłowym położeniem serca

Levocardia with situs inversus

Kod ORPHA

95854

Kod OMIM

-

Kod ICD10

Q24.1

Kod ICD11

LA80.0

*Źródło

orphanet