

Opis choroby *

Definicja

A rare, congenital limb malformation characterized by shortening (hypoplasia or aplasia) of the middle phalanges of the index finger and, sometimes, of the fifth finger. On radiographs, the middle phalanx of the index fingers often appear triangular and in severely affected cases, the index finger is curved radially. The lower limb phenotype is generally milder.

Dane

Klasyfikacja

Zespół wad wrodzonych Brachydactyly, Mohr-Wriedt type
Brachydaktylia, Mohra i Wriedta

Kod ORPHA

93396

Kod OMIM

112600

Kod ICD10

Q73.8

Kod ICD11

LD26.1

*Źródło

orphanet