

Opis choroby *

Definicja

Landau-Kleffner syndrome (LKS) is an age-related epileptic encephalopathy where developmental regression occurs mainly in the language domain and the electroencephalographic (EEG) abnormalities are mainly localized around the temporal-parietal regions. The term acquired epileptic aphasia describes the main features of this condition.

Dane

Klasyfikacja

Choroba

Synonimy

Acquired epileptic aphasia

LKS

Nabyta afazja padaczkowa

LKS

Kod ORPHA

98818

Kod OMIM

245570

Kod ICD10

F80.3

Kod ICD11

8A62.2

---

*Źródło

orphanet