

Opis choroby *

Definicja

Lisch epithelial corneal dystrophy (LECD) is a very rare form of superficial corneal dystrophy characterized by feather-shaped opacities and microcysts in the corneal epithelium arranged in a band-shaped and sometimes whorled pattern, occasionally with impaired vision.

Dane

Klasyfikacja

Choroba

Synonimy

Band-shaped and whorled microcystic dystrophy of the corneal epithelium

LECD

Mikrotorbielowata dystrofia nabłonka rogówki o chrakterze smug i wirów

LECD

Kod ORPHA

98955

Kod OMIM

300778

Kod ICD10

H18.5

Kod ICD11

9A70.Y

---

*Źródło

orphanet