

Opis choroby *

Definicja

Primary pigmented nodular adrenocortical disease (PPNAD) is a form of bilateral adrenocortical hyperplasia that is often associated with adrenocorticotrophin hormone (ACTH) independent Cushing syndrome (see this term) and is characterized by small to normal sized adrenal glands containing multiple small cortical pigmented nodules (less than 1 cm in diameter).

Dane

Klasyfikacja

Choroba

Synonimy

PPNAD

PPNAD

Primary pigmented nodular adrenal dysplasia

Kod ORPHA

189439

Kod OMIM

615830

Kod ICD10

E24.8

Kod ICD11

-

*Źródło

orphanet