

Opis choroby *

Definicja

A rare, genetic, intestinal disease characterized by osmotic diarrhea, abdominal pain and increased rectal flatulence after ingestion of trehalose, a disaccharide found mainly in mushrooms, due to intestinal trehalase deficiency. It occurs primarily in the Greenland population, although cases have also been reported elsewhere.

Dane

Klasyfikacja

Choroba

Synonimy

Isolated trehalose intolerance

Izolowana nietolerancja trehalozy

Kod ORPHA

103909

Kod OMIM

612119

Kod ICD10

E74.3

Kod ICD11

5C61.3

*Źródło

orphanet