

Opis choroby *

Definicja

Nasal glial heterotopia is a rare developmental abnormality presenting usually at birth or in early childhood (rarely in adulthood) as a benign, non-pulsatile mass that can lead to nasal obstruction, deformation of the septum and nasal bone, and respiratory distress if untreated. Nasal glial heterotopias have no communication with the central nervous system; however an associated defect in the cribriform plate is sometimes reported.

Dane

Klasyfikacja

Choroba

Synonimy

Nasal glioma

Glejak nosa

Kod ORPHA

141112

Kod OMIM

-

Kod ICD10

Q30.8

Kod ICD11

LA70.Y

*Źródło

orphanet